PICA Job Board Connects Printing Employers with Talent Across the Carolinas

CHARLOTTE, NC (January 28, 2026) –The Printing Industry of the Carolinas, Inc. (PICA) is helping connect employers and job seekers through its PICA Job Board, a dedicated resource showcasing open positions within the printing, packaging, and graphic communications industry throughout North and South Carolina.

The PICA Job Board is a members-only benefit for employers, allowing PICA member companies to post open positions and promote career opportunities to a targeted, industry-specific audience. At the same time, the job board is open to the public, enabling anyone interested in a career in printing to view current openings and contact hiring companies directly.

“Finding skilled talent for the printing industry—and finding the right career path—can be challenging,” said PICA President Carrie Epps. “The PICA Job Board makes that connection easier by bringing employers and job seekers together in one trusted, industry-focused space.”

Currently, the job board features an open Press Operator position in the RTP area of North Carolina, offering an immediate opportunity for individuals seeking hands-on work in a production environment. Additional positions are added as member companies post new openings.

The PICA Job Board supports the association’s broader mission to strengthen the printing industry by promoting workforce development, career awareness, and member value.

Job seekers can explore open positions at no cost, while PICA members benefit from exclusive access to post jobs and reach qualified candidates who are specifically interested in the printing industry.
